DEATH LIST TOTALS 78

Statement by Quebec Bridge Co. Regarding Late Accident.

MANY BODIES RECOVERED

Collapse of the Huge Cantilever Bridge Was Not Caused by Any Failure in the Masonry Work of the Piers, as Was Supposed.

Quebec, Sept. 2.—According to a statement given out by officers of the Quebec Bridge company, the number of dead as a result of the collapsing of the Quebec bridge is at least seventy-eight. Only seventy bodies have been recovered. Nine men were rescued and eight are still unaccounted for.

Daybreak Saturday morning revealed the fact that the collapse of the bridge was not caused by any failure in the masonry work, as was supposed.

Although the immediate cause of the smash is supposed to have been the running of a heavily laden train out to the end, it is evident that this merely hastened the disaster, since every hour the weight at the outer end of the structure was being increased as the huge girders were riveted to place.

Consulting Engineer's Statement.

New York, Sept. 2.—Theodore C. Cooper, of this city, who has been the consulting engineer in charge of the work on the Quebec cantilever bridge across the St. Lawrence river which collapsed Thursday evening, feels keenly the accident that cost the lives of seventy-nine workingmen.

In a statement made to a representative he reproached himself for not having visited the works in two years though ill health has kept him here, and he tried to obtain his release from the responsibility of the position for that reason.

Mr. Cooper also made the statement that on Thursday morning after his inspector had come to see him and told him that things did not look well for the bridge, he had sent a telegram to the man in charge of the work to get off the bridge and stay off until it could be examined.

Mr. Cooper is one of the most distinguished engineers in this country as well as one of the most experienced. He is 68 years old. He was associated with Jas. B. Eads in constructing the St. Louis bridge over the Mississippi river from 1872 to 1875. He has long been considered a bridge expert in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

The roads that have sent in these tariffs are the Alabama Great Southern, the Chattanooga Southern, the Southern and Mobile and Ohio. The Seaboard Air Line railroad has not yet completed its tariffs, but it is expected that it will be handed to the commission within the next few days. The new rates go into effect on September first.

Operator Fined $500.

Kansas City, Sept. 2.—In the police court here Leroy Dotson, a striking operator, was fined $500 for assaulting F. G. Gailey, a newspaper reporter, whom he took for a strike breaker. Dotson testified that he had knocked Gailey down because the reporter would not say whether or not he was a strike breaker. Acting Judge Young, who passed the sentence, lectured Dotson, telling him he was a disgrace to the union. The local branch of the Telegraphers' union have adopted resolutions denouncing Dotson.

TROUBLE BREWING IN CHINA.

Recent Appearance of Comet Regarded as Presaging Revolution.

Pekin, Sept. 2.—With the arrival of Huan Shi Kai, commander in chief of the Chinese army, there began in the summer palace Friday an unusual series of deliberations concerning the condition of the empire.

The imperial family believes, and the government fears, that the Chinese race is bent upon unseating the the Manchus. The Chinese imperial family is of Manchu origin. All devices adopted by the throne to move distinctions between Chinese and Manchu having failed, the throne now contemplates the amalgamation of the two races.

The course of action is said to be ready for promulgation.

The recent comet was a subject of an anxious discussion Saturday. The court is disturbed on account of the universal belief that comets presage revolution.

The dowager empress is failing rapidly. She has suffered apoplectic strokes in the past year and her vitality clearly is lessening. The failing of the empress' health has been accompanied during the last days of her reign by a kaleidoscopic recast of the department of state, as well as a resolution to prepare China for a constitution.

Fatal Crash on Mattcon and Charleston Electric Railway.

Mattoon, Ills., Sept. 2.—Eighteen dead and sixty injured have been taken from the wreck of an electric train on the Mattoon and Charleston electric railway which occurred on a sharp curve shortly before noon Friday.

One mile west of Charleston, owing to a confusion of orders, the train crashed into an express car on the road coming toward Mattoon. Both cars were wrecked.

The young man, who was an employee of the road, had boarded the moving train, when his hat blew off. He alighted, got his hat and attempted to board again, when he was thrown under the wheels and one leg and one arm crushed off.

Ecaped Convicts Return.

Donalsonville, Ga., Sept. 2.—Nine of the fourteen escaped convicts from the farm of T. J. Shingler have voluntarily straggled into town, one at a time, and given themselves up. They are all negroes, and there are only two negroes and the two white convicts, who are armed, at large. They will probably be captured soon.

MOROCCAN SITUATION

It Is Reported to Be Growing More Alarming.

TRIBESMEN ROUTE TROOPS

Legations Have Announced Places of Refuge for Europeans in Case of Danger—Newspaper Correspondent's Narrow Escape.

Paris, Sept. 2.—A dispatch to the Matin from Tangiers says the situation in Morocco is growing more alarming.

The foreign legations have made an announcement of places of refuge for Europeans in case of danger.

Great numbers of cut-throats are appearing in and around the city.

A courier from Fez, the correspondent adds, states that tribesmen have attacked and totally routed the troops under Caid Abdel Kader, near Fez.

The Matin adds, the correspondent says, that Wednesday's attack obviously was directed by a person thoroughly conversant with the methods of modern warfare. The correspondent adds that the natives made a splendid charge and that only the shells from the Gloire broke it. The newspaper correspondents had a narrow escape from capture. One of them had his mule killed.

The correspondent also says that an Arab fugitive has come into Casa Blanca bringing Mulai Hafig's letter in which he requests the tribesmen to saying that he hopes to me make no further attack on the Frenchmen, saying that he hopes to arrive Friday, when "I will confer with the French, and if good comes from it, it will be for all; if not, I will join my forces with yours and lead you."

New York, Sept. 2.—An application to oust the curb brokers from Broad street, has been denied by Justice Guy in the supreme court. J. A. Allen, a lawyer, with offices near the spot where the brokers transact their business, was the applicant. He said the brokers make so much noise in the street that it seriously interfered with the conduct of his business. Counsel for the brokers submitted affidavits from other tenants of the vicinity, testifying that they were not at all disturbed by the curb brokers.

The inside pocket of his coat bore the name of C. N. DeWolfe, while the maker was given as "Nicholl, Chicago."

Dallas, Sept 2—Apparently a conflict between the executive and the judiciary of the state has been, or is about to be, precipitated arising over the arrest and the detention of Mrs. M. Johnson and Miss Mattie Brown, the two women who were in Dallas last Sunday, on request of officers at Montgomery, Ala.

Information was received from Austin, Tex., that Governor Campbell, of Texas, had honored the requisition of the governor of Alabama, for the two women, and that a deputy sheriff from Montgomery was enroute to Dallas, Tex., from Alabama, to arrange with the proper officials to take the parties into custody and return with them to the state of Alabama.

Immediately after receipt of this information, W. I. Forle, of Crawford & Crawford, repreesnting the women, presented an application for writ of habeas corpus.

The women are held under $1,000 bail each, pending the hearing of the application, which is set for Monday.

Mrs. Barker, who has become one of the most enthusiastic yacht women in America since she acquired the famous craft that beat the Galatea in 1886, is undaunted, even the fact that the Mayflower will have to compete against such racers as the Ingomar, which Captain Barr will sail. She really hopes to win, but says she is only going for a jolly sail.

Simpson had offered to give Haddock Inn and a large tract of land, including the falls, to a board of trustees to establish there an agricultural and industrial school, but it has been found that the money for the school cannot be raised this year. Rev. J. M. Rogers, of this city, who had been named as financial agent for the new school, was notified of this determination Friday by Mr. Simpson. The work will be taken up, however, next year and pushed to success.

The opposing leaders are by no means agreed upon the condition which will bring about the settlement. However, Daniel L. Russell, of the Telegraphers' Union, said he is confident that next Wednesday will see a complete capitulation of the companies.

Superintendent Brooks, of the Western Union, said he believed that the empty pockets of the strikers will lead to a solution of the trouble.

Some men are already returning, he said, and he looks for a general break next week.

The Address on the Letter.

"It is not spelling alone that has been smitten by the hand of the destroyer," lamented the postman. "Punctuation has also gone by the board. When I first began to handle United States mail ten years ago the directions on envelopes were punctuated according to schoolbook rules. Abbreviations were finished off with a period, names were followed by a comma, and so so. Now the envelope that is properly punctuated is a rarity. Sometimes, just out of curiosity, I take time to look carefully through a bunch of letters. Out of, say, twenty, more than half will be entirely destitute of punctuation marks. In the few cases where an attempt has been made to punctuate hysterical dashes take the place of the periods and commas that once prevailed."—New York Globe.

Wisdom Beyond His Years.

His mother found him in the jam and reprimanded him. A little later she caught him teasing his baby sister and reprimanded him again.

"I don't see what's got into you, Willie," she said. "You're usually the good little boy, but today you're up to all kinds of mischief."

"I'm tired of being good," he returned, with juvenile frankness.

"Tired of being good!" she exclaimed. "What do you mean by that?"

"Well, Brother Bob is naughty most of the time, and you're always giving him things to get him to be good, and I guess I'll be naughty for awhile and see if I don't get something too."

Sometimes a youngster seems to have wisdom beyond his years.

A Magnate in Embryo.

At the opening exercises of one of our schools it is the custom to have mottoes and sentiments given by the pupils.

Julius Moses gave, "The pen is mightier than the sword."

"Why, Julius, is the pen mightier than the sword?"

"Why? Because," answered Julius, "you can sign checks with it."—Circle.

A Nice Little Hint.

First Lieutenant—How do you like the horse you bought from me last week? Second Lieutenant—Very much. He might hold his head a little higher, though. First Lieutenant—Oh, that will come all right when he is paid for.—London Tit-Bits.

The Valuable Book.

"I never met a more ignorant man than Nuritch," said Mugley. "What he doesn't know would fill a good many books."

"Yes," replied Wise. "But what he does know seems to have filled one pocketbook at least."—Philadelphia Press.

CUTICURA REMEDIES EFFECTED A CURE

"I had salt rheum for three years on my hands, arms, and face and I thought it would get all over me. I tried four or five doctors but they failed and my husband has spent hundreds of dollars in trying everything we could hear of. But I grew worse and worse, my hands itched awfully and I could get no rest at all. I was just in agony all the time because when they did not itch they were so dry and crackly that I was miserable and when they cracked, they bled. The nails of my finger and thumb began to come off, and my hands were a solid sheet of sores. Several of my friends told me to try the Cuticura Remedies so I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and from the first my hands began to improve and now they are well, and I think that the Cuticura Remedies are worth their weight in gold, and I advise every one that has skin trouble to use them. She Found Relief.

If you are troubled with liver complaint and have not received help read this. Mrs. Mary E. Hammond, Moody, Texas: "I was in poor health—with liver trouble—for over a year. Doctors did me no good and I tried Herbine, and three bottles cured me. I can't say too much for Herbine, as it is a wonderful liver medicine. I always have it in the house. Publish where you wish." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

A DEMOCRAT WHO DOES THINGS.

Among those who are being discussed as likely to be considered for the Democratic nomination for President is Robert B. Glenn, Governor of North Carolina, who has become prominently before the country within the past month or two by reason of his controversy with Judge Pritchard over the enforcement of the North Carolina railroad rate laws. He was born on a farm in Rockingham county, N. C., in August 1854, and is a member of a distinguished family, and received a classical education. Having spent three years at Davidson College, and two years at the University of Virginia, he began the study of law in 1875, under Judge Richmond Pearson. In 1877 he was admitted to the bar, and soon afterward married, and settled at Danbury, in Stokes county, where he practiced his profession for seven years. He then moved to Winston, and formed a partnership with Clement Manly. In 1891 he was sent to the State Legislature. In 1895 he was elected solicitor of the ninth judicial district of North Carolina and in 1898 he was appointed by President Cleveland to the office of district attorney for the Western district of North Carolina. In 1904 he was elected Governor of the State. He was a Cleveland elector in 1884, 1888 and 1892. He is regarded as a great lawyer, and is devoted to his profession. He has never been a candidate for Congress.

As Governor Glenn succeeded in compelling the Southern Railway to obey the laws of North Carolina, in spite of the interference of the former attorney of that corporation, who is now a Federal circuit judge, he has won the plaudits of all men who favor a stricter regulation of railroads, and that alone would make him an available Democratic candidate for any position that his countrymen may select him for.

GOOD LOGIC.

The Democratic leader of the House of Representatives, Hon. John Sharp Williams, urges Democrats everywhere to "emphasize the thing that they are agreed upon, and forget the things they do not agree upon." This is sound logic. If two disputants cannot agree upon the premises, they cannot reason. If they do agree upon the premises, they are also most likely to agree upon the conclusion. Now we can all agree upon the axioms and definitions of free society which we call the principles of Jefferson, if we are really Democrats. But we shall look in vain for the principle of Federal ownership of interstate highways among the principles of Jefferson. So also we should find in these principles no warrant for governing a people without their consent, or taxing one class for the benefit of another class, or forbidding trusting unions, or entangling alliances with Kings, or expending Federal authority by shifty interpretations of the constitution. In fact we should find in Jefferson nothing resembling the "policies" of Mr. Roosevelt, nothing like the socialistic hallucinations that some Democrats are preaching. Such things, therefore, we ought to forget. Those who will not agree upon the axioms and definitions of free society will find a more congenial lodgment in the Socialistic party, or in its proginitor, the Republican party. They cannot reason with Democrats, and, therefore, can never reach the same or similar conclusions as a basis of unity.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Not the Store He Meant.

Crumpled in his hand was a batch of shopping bills, whose intermittent rustling, as the clutch of their possessor relaxed and again tightened, afforded ample testimony to the cause of his lordship's displeasure.

Gently and with all her wooing arts evidently in hair trigger readiness the young wife approached the offender and began:

"Lovey, now don't sit here pouting all by yourself like a bad natured little boy. Such actions, as you very well know, if you'll only stop to think it over, will not at all contribute to the making of that blissful home you were so prone to picture to me during our courting days. Don't you recall it, dearie, and how eloquent you used to grow over the happiness the future had in store for us?"

With the spell of his displeasure partly broken by her persuasive manner, and yet with some touch of bitterness in his tone, he turned and replied:

"Yes, I do, but I assure you, madam, that in that remark there was not even a remote hint of a department store."—Boston Courier.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book, that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retro-version or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

The "Letter Gae."

The leader of psalmody, or precentor, in the Church of Scotland used to read from his desk in front of the pulpit the successive lines for congregational singing. He was the "letter gae"—i. e. he that let go or started the praise—and his desk was called the "letterun" (lectrinum). Pitching his voice to the first note of each line, he proceeded to chant the words in a slow, drawling monotone, prolonging the last syllable for a little and then breaking at the head of the congregation into the music set to the words thus delivered. The effect of this would no doubt be frequently more curious and entertaining than edifying and solemn, and strange developments must occasionally have occurred. The position tested not only the musical qualifications, but also the literary attainments, of the leader, and there are passages in the metrical version of the Psalms as used in Scotland which must have put rural precentors on their mettle.—London Notes and Queries.

When to Shoot a Critic.

At a supper party at the Garrick club in London some years ago a theatrical manager wound up a humorous speech by declaring his conviction that it would be to the advantage of the drama if a muster were made of all the theatrical critics and they were shot offhand. Joseph Knight, the critic, called upon to reply to this playful strictures, rose and in his richest tones spoke as follows:

"Gentlemen, I have not the faintest objection, understand me, to the course proposed by Mr. X. provided that in mercy we are shot before being invited to witness such entertainments as our dear friend has recently produced at his theater."

Curran's Retort.

Justice Robinson's encounter with John Philpot Curran has been stated by Lord Brougham to have been the most successful instance of repartee on record. Judge Robinson was known to be the author of some anonymous pamphlets, a circumstance which gave Curran an opportunity to retort when the judge made a brutal attempt to crush him when a young and inexperienced member of the bar.

"I have searched all my law books," said Curran, "and I can find no precedent on the point."

"Your law is very," said the judge, "is rather contracted."

"My lord," replied Curran, "and be few, but the title pages give the subject matter. My client is my disgrace because of such a preposterous absurdity that the very authors are ashamed to own them."

"If you say another word, sir," said the judge, "I'll commit you."

"Then, my lord," replied Curran, "it will be the last thing you have committed this term."

The judge endeavored to get Curran disbarred, but failed.

Where Ignorance Was Not Bliss.

A story is told of a man who, crossing a disused coal field late at night, fell into an apparently bottomless pit and saved himself only by grasping a projecting beam. There he clung with great difficulty all night, only to find when day dawned that his feet were only four inches from the bottom.

Today the Best.

One of the illusions is that the present hour is not the critical, decisive hour. Write it on your heart that every day is the best day in the year. No man has learned anything rightly until he knows that every day is doomsday.—Emerson.

It is difficult to say who does you the most mischief, enemies with the worst intentions or friends with the best.—Bulwer.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '06, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

An old sore or ulcer is only a symptom, an outlet for the impurities and poisons which are in the blood, and as long as this vital fluid remains in this impure, contaminated state the place will never heal. The application of salves, washes, powders, etc., may cause the spot to scab over, but a fresh outpouring of diseased matter from the blood starts it again, and thus it goes on gradually growing worse and slowly affecting the entire health of the sufferer. There are many ways in which the blood becomes contaminated and poisoned. A long spell of sickness breeds disease germs in the system, the failure of the eliminative members to remove the refuse and waste matter of the body, the excessive use of mineral medicines in certain diseases, all infect the blood with morbid matter and germs which sooner or later is manifested by a sore that refuses to heal. Persons with inherited blood taint are very apt to be afflicted with sores and ulcers. The taint may lie dormant during young, vigorous life, but when middle age is reached or passed and the natural energies begin to grow weaker, the tissues in some weak point break down and a chronic sore is formed and kept open by the constant drainage of impure matter from the blood. If the cause is not removed the sore will continue to grow worse by eating deeper into the flesh, festering, discharging, and slowly undermining the constitution. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, and soon the place is cured. Do not depend on external applications, which do not reach the blood, but begin the use of S. S. S. and remove of the cause, and then the sore must heal. MUSICAL SOUNDS.

Thinking Them as One Does Letters and Words Is Not Difficult.

To acquire the habit of thinking musical sounds, as one does letters and words, is not a difficult task. In fact, to one who undertakes it seriously there is no difficulty greater than that of learning to read literature. The usual method of tuition, which teaches the pupil to regard this, that or the other note as identical with certain positions on his instrument, is not one best calculated to make him an efficient and intelligent reader. He never attains to independence in musical thought, but must ever refer to his instrument before he can form a fairly intelligible conception of the musical story that lies silent on the page before him.

As a child may learn to read the alphabet, to form letters into words and words into sentences and so on, just so may the music student learn to recognize and use the notes before him. Strange as it may appear, the study of reading music may be carried on [illegible]. For instance, while I think of it entirely my mind leaves its flow [illegible] of the pamphlet in the stuff [illegible] before me appear as the melody [illegible] song into time. I realize the [illegible] clef, key signatures, bar [illegible] divisions, and in a moment I translate the thought to paper. [illegible] are accustomed to the appearance of their ordinary [illegible] in print and by constant [illegible] the king of transmittal from [illegible] to paper is hindered no greatly [illegible] almost automatic in performance. Whatever of hindrance oftentimes [illegible] in the process of writing [illegible] is the result of want of practice and not that this form of writing [illegible] is intrinsically more difficult [illegible] writing in words, or demands [illegible] greater mental or manual effort. [illegible] is to have greater and direct [illegible] of the hand; and both [illegible] from the practice which [illegible] of thinking music.—Musician.

YOUR GOLD COINS.

Also If Any of Them Is Stamped With the Letter L.

"I got hold of a gold coin a short [illegible] and it was marked with a small L, which I supposed had been stamped upon it by some one who wanted to keep watch as to whether he [illegible] it in circulation again. I showed it around to my landlord, I think, and he made nothing more about it for several months. Then I found out that [illegible] were passing 'light' coin."

"How is that?" was the question of a listener.

"All coins, whether gold or silver, upon which a large L is stamped are [illegible] weight. When you get one of these stamped coins, the only thing to do is to take it to some assayer, who will weigh it and pay you about 10 per cent less than the face value of the coin for it. He will then place it in a crucible to be melted into gold bullion. The government itself mutilates these coins and in so doing turns the whole currency right back into circulation, where some innocent party will [illegible] victimized by them.

"When the light coins are tendered for duties on imports they are weighed at the custom house, quickly stamped 'L' for light and returned to the importer. If the latter cannot pass the coin off, he must take it to the retort to be melted.

"The light coins may be rendered light in the ordinary course of abrasion in circulation or they may have been [illegible] by parties who sell the gold dust that they [illegible] off the coin. The common mode of sweating is to place a number of gold coins in a sack and shake them up for a long time, when the gold dust will gather at the bottom of the sack."—Utica Observer.

Mules and Gray Horses.

"I wonder if that truck driver knows of any good reason for hitching that mule with the gray horse?" remarked a Georgian as he saw such a team halted at Chambers street and Broadway. "Let's ask him."

The driver only knew that the team was always driven together by order of the stable boss.

"Well," went on the southerner, "since I was a child I've always seemed to know that mules will follow a gray horse or hitch with him where they won't have any truck with a horse of any other color. I've seen the most unruly mules behave properly when in the company of a gray, but I've never heard a good reason given for the fact."—New York Sun.

Hopeful.

Granger—How are you getting along at your house? Timson—Pretty well, on the whole. We are nearly out of everything but debt, and in time, if things go on as they have been goin', we ought to be out of that.—Boston Transcript.

Safe Scheme.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

As a matter of fact there are no very big fish in small puddles.

You can usually find a pin almost anywhere but in the pincushion.

A fool is the greatest nuisance in this world. And there are quite a few of them.

It is beyond some men to understand the difference between pomposity and dignity.

We have always wondered what women do with the 2 cents saved in purchasing a two dollar article for $1.98.

Have you ever stopped to admire the self control of the man who can pick up a lead pencil without marking on something?

Every man would have a pretty fair reputation if people looked for his good qualities as carefully as they look for the good qualities of a dog.—Atchison Globe.

Absentminded 'Gators.

An old colored man who is devoutly religious returned to Brooklyn recently from a trip to Florida, his birthplace, and told his employer about a narrow escape he had had from an alligator. Knowing of the religious zeal of the darky, the employer sought to test his faith.

"What were you afraid of an alligator for?" he asked him. "Don't you know that the Lord will take care of you? Of course you know the story of Jonah and the whale. The whale swallowed Jonah, but Jonah came out all safe enough."

The darky shook his head dubiously. "Yes, boss, I knows about Jonah," he said, "but, then, you see, a whale's got a mem'ry. A alligatah ain't got no mem'ry. If a 'gatah swallows you he won't think no mo' about you."—New York Press.

Simplicity's Saving Grace.

"I like simplicity," said the statesman. "Simplicity saves us a lot of trouble too.

"Two men met in front of the Blank hotel the other day and fell into a political argument. They were ordinary, everyday sort of men, but one of them had an extraordinary flow of polysyllabic language. He talked half an hour, and his companion listened in a daze.

"'And now,' the speaker pompously concluded, 'perhaps you will coincide with me.'

"The other's face brightened up.

"'Why, yes. Thanks, old man,' he answered heartily, moving toward the barroom door, 'I don't care if I do.'"

Queer Smokes.

"Tobacco," said a tobacconist, "is one of many herbs that are smoked. In the orient, for instance, bhang or cannabis, a drug that gives one the desire to caress people's feet, goes into loads of pipes. Some savages smoke the leaves of the wild potato and the wild tomato. These bitter leaves are narcotic. They throw you into a pleasant stupor. Burned in, though, they bring insanity. Some of the Swiss guides smoke 'mountain tobacco,' a weed that grows only at great heights. This stuff produces an intoxication akin to alcohol's. Our Indians, when hard up, smoke holly and sumac leaves and the silvery leaves of 'Indian tobacco,' which every boy has chewed."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, Prop. Sullivan House, El Reno, O. T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

How She Viewed It.

Perhaps she was jealous, perhaps she wasn't. Anyway, she had just heard of the engagement, and she could not keep nursing the engaged girl's pride in her captured youth.

"Really," she said, and her lips curled scornfully, "there's no accounting for tastes, is there? Some people think they have won the game when they get the lucky prize."

GREAT BASEBALL SERIES.

Boston and Providence Battled in the League in 1884.

Probably one of the grandest series baseball games played by National league clubs was that between the Bostons and the Providence Grays in 1884. The Bostons had won the championship of 1883, and it was the ambition of Providence cranks, who lived forty miles away from the Hub, to wrest the laurels away from the Bostons. Every game that was played between the clubs was attended by immense crowds, and the excitement was at white heat.

The first game of the series in 1884 was one of fifteen innings and resulted in a tie, the score standing 1 to 1. The pitchers were Charley Radbourne and Jim Whitney, and 10,000 persons saw the battle. The next day Providence won by a score of 2 to 1 in 11 innings, and Charley Sweeney struck out nineteen Boston batsmen. The first eight games Boston won and Providence three. When it came time to meet for the four final games the Providence team had won every series from the other teams and wanted to win the series from the Bostons too. Radbourne naturally was assigned to pitch in all four games on four successive days. He was in such magnificent form that in all of the games the Bostons batted and scored the sum total of one run. One of the games lasted eleven innings. It was played in Boston and was finally won by the Rhode Island team by a score of 1 to 0. Arthur Irwin, who was the shortstop for Providence, drove a long fly toward the left field fence, and the ball went through a hole between the boards. It was a four bagger and decided the game.

Radbourne's wonderful pitching in those days will never be forgotten by those who saw him perform. He went to the box game after game and pitched for nineteen consecutive contests. It was his remarkable twirling that was instrumental in helping Providence to win the pennant that year. Sweeney jumped the club in the middle of the season, and Rad went through single handed. One feat that was the talk of the baseball world in 1884 was his pitching in an exhibition game at Trenton. The home club would not allow Providence to play with the regulation league ball and insisted upon substituting another of heavier weight. Radbourne, however, accepted the latter ball and proceeded to strike out every man who came to the bat until one man had been retired in the sixth inning. Then a player fouled the ball, which had not been done before. The pitching distance in 1884 was forty-five feet from the home plate.

Work and Worry.

"I am working too hard. My work is killing me." The man is mistaken. Work does not kill. Work is medicine for the body and mind and spirit. Work is the salvation of men. Work cures a thousand ills. Worry kills. Dissipation kills. Worry is largely a matter of nerves or indigestion or liver, or it may be a quality of temperament or it may spring from envy or some other hateful habit of thought. In most cases worry is concerning things purely imaginary—things that cannot be helped. One of the best cures for the worry habit is work, hard work of body and mind. Work requires concentration of effort and mind. That makes men forget his troubles. Work may be made a joy, and in the joy of work there is no room for worry. Right living, right thinking, work—these are specifics for most of the ills caused by worry.

Dissipation kills.—Atlanta Journal.

The Original New England.

Not one man in a thousand living on the Pacific coast knows that as a matter of fact the accents of our mother tongue were heard on the beach not far from San Francisco forty-one years before English was spoken on Plymouth Rock. More amusing still is the fact that the original New England was on the Pacific coast, for Francis Drake in 1579, at the close of a month's stay, took possession of the country for his sovereign, Elizabeth, and named the new acquisition Nouva Albion (New England) because he thought the white cliffs near what is now Point Reyes resembled the chalk cliffs near Dover.—Outing.

Men's Hats in Great Britain.

There is a difference of two sizes between the average hats worn in Birmingham and Glasgow, and it is generally conceded that the average size in Birmingham is smaller than in any other town in the kingdom. Taking the whole of England, the average size that required by men is a 7, or nearly forty-two inches in circumference; in Wales 6⅞ is the average, the Irishman averages a 7 full, while the canny Scot's average is 7⅛.—Tailor and Cutter.

Soothing.

"Are you hurt, John?"

"Yes, dear, I am afraid three or four of my ribs are broken."

"Well, don't feel bad; it doesn't matter."—Houston Post.
